Recently our brilliant Year Five Students were involved in a Mexican cuisine stand off! The students cooked Mexican cuisine which is a style of food that is primarily a fusion of indigenous Mesoamerican cooking with European, especially Spanish, cooking developed after the Spanish conquest of the Aztec Empire. The basic staples remain the native corn, beans and chili peppers but the Europeans introduced a large number of other foods, the most important of which were meat from domesticated animals (beef, pork, chicken, goat and sheep), dairy products (especially cheese) and various herbs and spices. Well our students certainly put their cooking skills to the test, which resulted in some interesting condiments and some yummy tortillas! Well done everyone and a special thank you to all the teachers and parents who assisted with the Mexican stand off! Now, what next is on the menu in year five???
Do All Things Well

Hasta La Vista Baby! Until next time!