My visit to see Year Five last week provided me with time to sit and chat with Mrs Grant and her chargers as they investigated the world of bushrangers. However, Mrs Grant’s students were investigating something a little different – they were unpacking the world of Sidney Nolan whose marvellous art work on Ned Kelly is simply outstanding! The students were able to share with me some key aspects of Sidney Nolan’s work ranging from simplicity of landscape to the intriguing and detailed Ned Kelly riding on horseback. Now that is the spirit of Art!
