What a week, children coming to school happy, the school grounds look fantastic, Ms Watkins class busy reading their class novel entitled The Floods—one of my favourite books, Ms Bordignon’s class busy exploring new words as part of their spelling program, Year Two working on their mathematical skills, Year Five developing a recount of their camp to Ballarat using Powerpoint, students playing handball, Kindergarten students engaging in morning exercise and families happily dropping off their children.

Yes folks, it is all systems go at St Patrick’s!
